GIRLS' ASSOCIATION,
OLDHAM. = = 1930=1931.

THE OLD GIRLS' ASSOCIATION.

CONSTITUTION AND RULES.

The Society shall be called the Old Girls' Association of the Oldham Hulme Grammar School for Girls.

The President shall be the acting Head Mistress of the School, and the Secretary shall be one of the members or ex-members of the School Staff.

The affairs of the Association shall be conducted by a Committee consisting of the President, the Secretary, the Treasurer, and sixteen representative members, of whom one shall be elected by the Staff, fourteen shall be elected by the Old Girls, and one by the members of Form Upper VI. Of the fourteen Old Girls' representatives two shall retire annually in rotation, but they shall be eligible for re-election, and the election shall take place at the December meeting.

Members who, without good cause assigned, absent themselves from committee meetings for two consecutive years shall be considered to have resigned, and their places shall be filled at the December meeting at the end of the second year during which they were absent from the meetings.

Full members (i.e., those who are able to attend the meetings) shall pay a yearly subscription of 3s. Country members, who are not eligible to attend meetings, shall pay 2s. Both subscriptions include the Record.

All subscriptions are due in December, and may be paid at the meeting. No notices will be sent to any member whose subscription is two years in arrears.

There shall be two meetings of the Association each year—at the beginning of December, and on the first Thursday in July, with the exception that in alternate years a picnic shall take the place of the summer meeting at School.

During the last week in November each member shall send to the Secretary at least one warm useful garment for the Hulme Charity. Clothing that has been worn if it is in good condition is acceptable.

The Record shall be issued during the spring, and shall be sent to all members who have paid their subscriptions.

The Hulme Grammar School for Girls,
Oldham.

Dear Old Girls,

Miss Evington has suggested that as I have not yet had the pleasure of meeting you all personally, I should write to you. But a letter is an inadequate means of conversation and I would only use it as a temporary expedient. It will not, I trust, be long before you have all found your way into the school. No pretext is needed; the name of Old Girl is the talisman. Some of you are parents of girls now in the school, most of you know some present members of the staff and all of you will, I hope, come and know me. The school is always open to you and there are occasions, such as the July Breaking-up, when we should be especially glad to have you with us. I know that the ties which bind the Old Girls to the Grammar School are firmly knit; they will help the present girls to realise the continuity of tradition and the purpose of school as a preparation for life.

Very sincerely yours,

P. D. COWELL.

Last year we had to say "good-bye," and very sorrowfully we said it, to Miss Bailey, our kind and sympathetic President for seven years. This year we offer a hearty welcome to our new President, Miss Cowell, assuring her that she may count on our loyalty at all times. This does not argue a transference of allegiance or affection, far from it; rather it shews that the Old Girls' Association has been singularly fortunate in its presidents, and that once again we are happy to find at our head one who has already given proof that she appreciates and means to stand by the Old Girls as her predecessors have done. Her gracious letter to us with which this Record opens leaves us in no doubt about that.

In January, Miss Bailey's old staff made an excursion to Ansdell to visit her and to be shown over her new school, the Queen Mary School for Girls. It is a beautiful building, quite up-to-date, and there were naturally many things to stir our envy, though, of course, we were not prepared to admit its superiority all round.

Miss Bailey very kindly took us to her house for tea and she showed us all her gifts including her wardrobe, the gift of the Old Girls, and she commissioned me to thank you again for it and also for the little fireside table which was bought with the small balance in hand after the purchase of the wardrobe. The little table is just the thing to hold a book or a cup of tea, and no doubt it is in constant use to that end.

The Sports Club has been well launched under the able and energetic direction of Miss James, with Bessie Ramsden as capable Secretary. Challenges to net-ball matches from the Old Girls' Associations of Blackburn and Sale made imperative some action on our part, resulting in the formation of net-ball teams which have given a good account of themselves during their short existence. The Secretary's report will be read with interest, and may even induce others to join the club. New members will be welcome; they should apply to B. Ramsden, 25, Grendon Avenue, Werneth.

The question of an Old Girls' tie or scarf becomes acute now that we have a Sports Club, and a choice will soon have to be made. It should, of course, be a design which, like our handsome blazer, obviously belongs to the School, a modification of the new school tie designed by Miss Shaw, the colours of which are navy and gold. You will be interested to know that the school has now a special uniform, navy tunic with white or blue blouse for winter, and for summer, a cotton dress in blue, green or pink Tobralco, made to a design by Miss Shaw.

Another item of school news which may stir feelings of envy is that the new playing fields should be ready for use in October. How many of the older members can recall the introduction of hockey with sticks like an ordinary ash walking-stick with L-shaped handle? Games have made enormous strides since those remote days!

The Sports Club is doing so well that we are led to ask: "Why should there not be also a musical and dramatic society?" It is certainly not for any lack of talent among our members. The young ones entertained us so well last December that it seems a pity to let such gifts lie hidden. Is there nobody who could take the matter up? Perhaps Edith Ashton who produced the play at the winter meeting might be prevailed upon to gather a band of actors, reciters and musicians, and others who, though not performers themselves, would be invaluable in the less spectacular but no whit less essential work that goes on behind the scenes. Where would the great ships be without the stokers? A good secretary, too, is a great asset to any club. So set to work, young members, and see what you can do about it. You will get plenty of fun out of it, and your committee will be relieved of all anxiety as to the entertainment to be provided at our open meetings.

A glance at the Notes will reveal how our Old Girls can step well out of the beaten track when the occasion offers. One of them is now directing the activities of a political association. Will she end by taking her seat in Parliament? One never knows. Another bids fair to be a golf champion. No doubt others are distinguishing themselves; if only they would tell us or if their friends would act as reporters!

At the election of committee members last December, E. Macpherson (Mrs. Thompson) was returned again, and Edith Ashton and Bessie Ramsden appointed. One of the latter takes the place of Margaret Weston, whose resignation we had regretfully to accept, as she is now on Miss Bailey's staff at Ansdell. We are glad to welcome these younger members, they should infuse new life into the Association—not that we regard the older members as in the least decrepit yet! Their experience is as ballast to the young folk's enthusiasm, and they will be the first to tell the young folk that to work for any cause is to love it.

This summer the picnic is due; it should take place on the first Saturday in July. Please send suggestions for a suitable goal for our excursion.

In last year's List of Members a mistake was made about which I am very sorry; that fearsome "dagger" appeared against the names of several members who did not deserve it. Three of us are taking subscriptions, and part of one receipt book was missed somehow when the subscriptions were entered in the account book. I found this out to my dismay when going over the receipt books later. Also, at the last meeting, in the scurry of taking subscriptions two of the counterfoils were not filled in and now it is impossible to trace the missing names. If those two can let us know, the mistake shall be rectified at once. Meanwhile we do trust that those affected will accept this apology, very sincerely proffered.

The Old Girls' share of the parcels sent for the Hulme Charity must be maintained. These clothes and toys gave great joy to the poor children as those members of Form VI can testify who helped with the distribution at the Christmas party. Garments for grown-ups, both men and women, are also most acceptable, for there is real poverty in the district.

Some of the Old Girls are, I am glad to say, realising their responsibility in the matter of supplying me with news for the Record. If all did so, what a volume we should have! In this connection, will you please note my changed address. Last December we left Old Trafford for Ryeford, Queen's Road, Ashton-on-Mersey, Manchester.

Brooches, 5s., and forms for blazers may be had from the Treasurer, Mrs. Garfitt, 213, Windsor Road, or from myself, Ryeford, Queen's Road, Ashton-on-Mersey, or from Miss Shaw at the School. The blazers cost about 38s. 6d. or 48s. 6d., according to the quality chosen.

THE SUMMER MEETING.

The Summer Meeting was held on July 3rd at the School.

However much we may enjoy the picnics, there is not the feeling of "coming home" that we get when we return to school and stroll around the playground, picking up the threads of friendship laid down, perhaps, at the last meeting—watching or playing tennis on the old familiar courts, or returning to the days of our youth via the cricket bat and ball.

One of the pleasantest sounds I know is that of the ping of the tennis racket strings on a sunny summer evening, or the crack of the cricket bat, as the ball is swept away to the boundary, and at the 1930 meeting, thanks to the fine evening, we were able to enjoy all this.

But this year there was an added thrill—the arrival of Miss Evington in her chariot, the car in which the Old Girls have a particular interest, which, therefore, had to be admired and inspected and admired again.

We also admired the driver-owner, who had so quickly mastered the intricacies of managing a car, and some of us were lucky enough to be taken for a short run to prove that all was well.

We all felt sad that this was the last meeting at which we should have Miss Bailey as our President, and all were anxious to say au revoir and to wish her happiness in her new school.

All things must come to an end, and after the usual well-catered supper—how does Miss Evington always guess just how many of us will come?—we adjourned to the hall for Auld Lang Syne, and so goodnight and the start for home, the lucky ones in their cars, when the brake was taken off. (A sly, but well-deserved thrust at the owner-driver above-mentioned.—Ed.) G.W.

THE WINTER MEETING.

The Old Girls met in December with varied feelings, regret at having lost their old President, Miss Bailey, and joy at being able to welcome Miss Cowell as their new President. The attendance at the meeting was very good, about one hundred and fifty members being present.

The evening's entertainment began with a play, "Me and My Diary," which had been chosen and produced by Edith Ashton. She had gathered together some of the younger members of the society, who all played their parts extremely well.

The story of the play centres round Lady Adela Boxgrove (E. Ashton) who has just published her "Diary" in which she has made unpleasant remarks about certain of her friends. She receives messages by telephone and post protesting against her book, but these are efficiently dealt with by her private secretary, Patience Marlowe (M. Radcliffe). The newspapers' criticism is adverse and Lady Adela is already exasperated when Miss Tibbits (N. Fletcher) calls to protest against a certain passage in the "Diary." This interview ended, after a heated discussion, Lady Adela's friends, the Hon. Mrs. Cheneys (W. Holt) and Phyllis Arkwright (E. Pegler) arrive, and together accuse her of being unfaithful to them and of making their secrets public. Finally Lady Adela is prostrated by a visit from her old lover, Sir Humphrey Woods (M. Nash) during which he criticises her book and informs her of his marriage to an old acquaintance.

After the play Miss Evington presented Miss Bailey with a wardrobe, the gift of the Old Girls, and said that everybody hoped that Miss Bailey would be very happy and comfortable in her new surroundings. She also welcomed Miss Cowell as the new President of the Association.

At the end of supper the election of committee members for the year was made, and the evening ended with the singing of Auld Lang Syne. E.J.

THE SOIRÉE.

The Soirée, with its pleasant opportunities of meeting old schoolfellows, friends and foes alike, was held on February 20th of this year. Once again, one was appalled at the ravages made by time on others and astonished at the perpetual youth of the staff. This consolation the long-suffering staff may take, that though when in their twenties they seem terribly old to the very young, they grow younger and younger as the child grows older and older, and the two meet at last on pleasant ground, the balance of years set right.

The writer, having to wait for a tardy husband, was a little late and went straight to the Girls' Hall for the "Wanglers'" performance of "The Master of the House" and "Fancy Free." Though not, perhaps, the best of Stanley Houghton's plays, the audience enjoyed themselves immensely, especially the horrid thrill of the discovery that all the time they had been chuckling with glee at the typical conversation of Mrs. Ovens and Edie, poor Mr. Ovens had been sitting there quite dead!

At the concert later in the evening we heard some delightful songs sung by Miss Rachel Hunt and Mr. Whitham, whilst Walter Jones and Partner amused us with jokes and astonished one hopelessly out-of-date member of the audience by the fiercely domestic nature of the words of jazz songs. It might rejuvenate the old and weary of us amazingly to be addressed as "baby," etc., etc., by our highly respectable husbands!

A delightful supper was served in the boys' dining-room, and in the big hall, which I for one will never admit is just the Boys' Hall, there was dancing to the music of the Vincentus Dance Band. Long skirts have won the battle for the evening, children of fifteen and sixteen wearing them to their feet and adding ten years to their apparent age and great joy, whilst those of us who remember the long skirt in the street shake in our shoes for our liberty and comfort.

THE NET-BALL CLUB.

The first meeting of the above club was held at the school on Saturday, November 15th, 1930. Thirteen people were present and we had an enjoyable practice. A discussion presided over by Miss James followed the practice, and it was decided to hold practices every Saturday and to begin matches in the New Year. Practices continued, but a few of our first day enthusiasts were forced, owing to other circumstances, to give up the idea of playing at least for this season, consequently we never had full teams for practices.

With the coming of the New Year—and matches—we managed to gather in one or two more players, and with a membership of fourteen we have raised two teams. School has been very kind, and when, as in the two matches of March 7th and 14th, our numbers have fallen below fourteen we have been able to borrow players.

As you can see, it is rather difficult to run two teams with fourteen members, added to which two shooters have to play defence, and we are hoping that next season we shall have an increased membership, and then, perhaps, we shall be able to run three or even four teams. The subscription is only small, 2/6 a year, with an entrance fee for the first season of 2/6; and so, people who are at a loss as to how best to spend their Saturday afternoons and are keen on net-ball could do worse than join us.

Our opponents are mainly Old Girls' teams, against many of whom we played in our schooldays.

We are affiliated to the All England Women's Net-Ball Association and on March 25th a meeting was held to form a Lancashire County Branch of the Association. Representatives from schools and clubs attended. Officers were appointed, and Miss James was elected to the general committee.

It was decided to hold trials in the Manchester and Liverpool areas on October 24th and November 7th respectively. Clubs can send up any number of players whom they consider to be up to county standard, provided that they do not duplicate any position. A final trial to select the County team is to be held after the two preliminary trials. Any affiliated members are eligible.

NOTES.

Miss Baguley has returned from Australia for a time. She was working there in connection with an Anglican sisterhood and has come home to test her vocation for the religious life at the Convent of the Incarnation, Oxford. On the Feast of the Conversion of S. Paul, she was clothed as a novice and is now Novice Pauline of Jesus of the Community of the Love of God, a Contemplative Community within the Anglican Communion. She is very happy there, and expects to be in England for three years, then hopes to return to Australia to carry on similar work there.

Miss Laybourne is now Senior French Mistress at the Lady Eleanor Holles School, Hackney.

Margaret Weston has followed Miss Bailey to the Queen Mary School for Girls, Ansdell, as English Mistress.

Isabel Kay has been appointed Head Mistress of the new Senior Girls' School, Maidstone, Kent. She has been teaching at the Waterloo Higher Standard Centre since 1917, where, in addition to the regular school routine, her work for the Old Scholars' Association and the Old Girls' Hockey Club has been much appreciated. Her school is a beautiful new building in extensive grounds. It is built for four hundred pupils, and she begins with about three hundred and a staff of twelve, and she has every detail to organise from the beginning. We heartily wish her success.

Marjorie Vessey has taken up golf as a career. Last October she won the Lady Derby Challenge Cup which is competed for annually by Lancashire players.

Nora Ashton (Mrs. Bittancourt) has had an article accepted by the Canadian Geographical Journal. Her subject was a district of Vancouver and its history. She hopes to gather material for another article during a trip in her husband's boat up the west coast of the island which, she says, would compare in the scenery of its fiords and waterfalls with that of Norway.

Marjorie Tetlow has passed the Board of Education's Drawing examinations and has been awarded the Sons of John Platt Senior Art Scholarship, value £120 a year for two years. She is attending the Marylebone Polytechnic School of Art, London, and studying book illustration.

Dorothy Curtis has passed all the examinations, and had accepted the examples of art and craft work necessary for the Oxford Delegacy's Secondary Art Teachers' Certificate. She is spending one year at the Nottingham School of Art for the course in the theory and practice of teaching which is required for the completion of the certificate.

Winifred Rothwell and Annie Whittaker are also studying at the Marylebone Polytechnic School of Art, Regent Street, London.

Phyllis Firth was commended for a set of designs for printed dress and furnishing fabrics entered for the Tootal, Broadhurst travelling scholarship in connection with the art and craft competitions held by the Royal Society of Arts. The designs were retained for exhibition at the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, for the month of August, and later were shown at the Manchester Art Gallery. She has accepted a post as dress designer for Messrs. Roland & Rivkin, Manchester. She is responsible for all the embroidery. They turn out about two hundred designs a week, covering lamp-shades, cushions, etc., as well as dresses.
